"With you gentlemen." the "proclamation" reads. "defying the majesty of the law via the alley-ways and byways in the city, while the police are doing likewise at the District line, don't take it for one moment that a suspension of your operations is expected—I am just appealing to your sense of fair play—give some other taxpayer a chance to realize that fine sense of goneness that I have to go through chance to realize that fine sense of goneness that I have to go through with now and then.

"With all my admiration for your skill—that there has been no police interference with your several operations in a source of chagrin, but you understand help-lessness just as well as I feel it; and again appealing to your sense of fair play and sportsmanship—This concern, having been for the sixth time the subject of your particular attention, I am taking the occasion to suggest that the W. F. Roberts Company is not the only concern in town stocking a line of automatic and other firearms."

Lloyd George Says Allies

Will Pass on War Crimes

In Near Future. London, July 3.-Wilhelm Hohen-collern, former Kaiser of the German empire, soon will be tried in London by an allied tribunal, Premier Lloyd George announced in the house of commons this after-

This was the first official an-nouncement regarding expiation of the ex-Kaiser's crimes against civilization since publication of the peace treaty. It was regarded as removing all doubt as to the allies' intention to bring the "war lord" to justice.

o justice. The attitude of the Dutch government regarding extradition of Wilhelm is now cloudy. State-ments by various officials in Hol-land have shown an inclination against turning him over to any other than the German govern-ment, but the belief has been ex-pressed in unofficial circles at the
